“ I have so many great memories of Dewayne. He was the first person my dad trusted me to hunt with and we had a lot of happy hours chasing quail and rabbits around local farms with our shotguns. One time we were going dove hunting on opening day out along the railroad tracks sw of town. We got up way before daylight and I got on the handlebars of a big old bicycle and held both shotguns under my arms while Dewayne pumped. We first went to the donut shop over by the TransLux theatre and left our shotguns against the wall next to the bike while we ate breakfast and then rode out to the field and hunted. Dewayne talked me into taking vocational agriculture in the 9th grade and that had a big influence on my life. We spent lots of time on his old Honda Mini Trail. Went fishing below the dam all night for catfish after he got his driver's license. He was a great friend. I'll miss him.
