“ I have grown to know you and shared in my heart your and Rachel's life. I had followed and prayed many times in your family's life journeys. God had a special place for Ally. From a father of 12 kids, I still can't and try not to feel only by imagination what you two have been through because it's too hard for me to want to try and comprehend. But I do know God has a place for his Angel's. I believe that you will be reunited again someday. Like you said, Ally will be her sister's Guardian Angel. There is a plan God had placed for her. I'm sorry for your loss. I pray you guys stay strong and know you guys are loved and thought of daily. God Bless you guys. Love from the Coleman family with condolences..

“ Victor,

You and your family are in my thoughts and prayers right now. I can't even fathom the pain you are feeling. I remember the day I waled in the shop and you were beaming from ear to ear....you and your wife had three new babies! Your joy and happiness was overwhelming and I was so happy for you both. Just remember there is always going to be a tiny breeze blowing around you and that will be Ally as she spreads her wings and flits like a butterfly, floating on God's breath. May you begin feeling peace and comfort in knowing that Ally rests in the arms of Jesus.
