“ It's been two years ago today that we lost you forever. You are surely missed my dear kind hearted sister. I love you and wished we could go back in time to have you back again.

“ For a significant number of years growing up, Barbara was nearly as constant in my life as my own parents. One of my favorite things about her was that she was always humming a tune I could never place. Megan and Jacob, my deepest sympathies are with you. You are all still a part of me.
