“ I was a 10 year old boy when Bart and my sister started dating. I always looked up to Bart like a brother. He would come to many of my football and basketball games thru middle and high school. And later I learned a lot from working around him those years at the paper mill, I did learn right way to make repairs, and of course the wrong way too. He was always patient with me, and never made me feel small. I'll miss him. ”
