The day we spent doing our family pictures was wonderful and the photographer I had outdid herself considering it 105 degrees.

“ My dad was my hero, I miss him terribly but I know he is with the Lord and with my mom, his wife of 67 yrs. He was a extraordinary man. He could fix anything from cars to any of my appliances that needed fixed. With very little education, he could figure out the answer to any question, the solution to any problem. He and Mom were the very definition of unconditional love. They would take in anyone who needed a place to stay, feed anyone that was hungry and always forgive no matter what the circumstances. They bring to mind two stories from the Bible, the prodigal son and the good samaritan. Everyone knew they were believers, they lived it everyday. This is a tribute wall to my Dad but you can't think of him without her.

You are right! There is no way you can think of Dad without thinking of Mom.

My dad was my hero also. Up until i was a teenager (who would rather date and hang with friends) Daddy and I went fishing every weekend. We graduated from that to water skiing. It took one whole summer for me to learn how and Daddy was always patient with me. In later years, I loved to have Mom and Daddy come to my house in Alabama. They would stay for several weeks and I cherished every moment with them. Daddy loved going to Dauphin Island and fishing with Paul in the Gulf. I always tried to make sure they got to do things they had never done. One of my favorite pictures of Mother was golfing at our country club. My favorite of Dad was at Dauphin Island, knee deep in water in Paul's driveway during a hurricane. Kellene and I had the privledge of taking Mom and Dad to Branson to see Andy Williams. They held hands and sang along with some of the songs. I can't believe they are both gone. I am so sad, but I know they are holding hands in heaven
