“ Erin, I am so sorry about the loss of your mom and you being so young. Your mom was always pleasant and polite to me. She did a good job raising you to be smart and nice. I believe she is pain free and at peace now. I hope you will find peace and discover how many people love you. Love from, Kaia Holder, your old violin teacher!

“ When Cynthia joined our Bible Study class she immediately looked for ways to extend the arms of Jesus to others. On my last visit Oct 12 the first words she said were "how is everyone". This tells what a woman she was on this earth. Be proud, Erin, for your selfless mother's legacy.
