“ I can see George coming down off the hill with a wild turkey thrown over his shoulder. It was the first one I had ever seen. I also remember my Mother slapping his fingers when he lifted the lids on her pots and pans on the stove to see what was cooking. When he drove in the driveway with a car that had a windshield that opened and even had a button to switch the horn for city or country driving, I KNEW he was rich! All my memories are good and I'll forever remember that grin. Rest in Peace George With Love, Faye

Now you are in the arms of angels as you look upon us, we will see you again some day, until then, give grandma a big hug and kiss for us, watch over us and always remember that you were the best grandpa I ever knew. I love you and miss you. Your granddaughter Kimberli.
