“ Liz, I can not express how deeply saddened I am by the passing of Hayden. Watching him with the kids at Creek was such a blessing. He and Rhyan and the “group” of friends always had so much fun together. I know Hayden is already starting a new race team in heaven. My hearts aches for you, Brady and Hayden’s sister and brother. May God wrap all of you in His loving arms and give you peace. My deepest sympathies to each of you. 💕🙏💕🙏💕

“ Dear Brady and Liz,
I am not sure what to say in the face of such a difficult loss but I share in your sadness and grief. I am sincerely and deeply sorry your family is experiencing the pain of the loss of Hayden . . . A son, a brother and a friend. Hayden left us far too early and before his time and now it seems he will never have the chance to fulfil all those dreams. I am sharing in your sorrow and keeping you and your family in my prayers in Jesus name. I pray you find strength and peace for the coming days as you take comfort in the thought of all the precious memories you made with Hayden and the happiness he brought. As you begin to remember not just that Hayden died, but that Hayden lived and loved and that his life gave you memories too beautiful to ever forget, I fervently pray God gives you a peace that surpasseth all understanding and the healing Love of God to mend your broken heart. That pain you feel is from the piece of your heart that Hayden took with him so he'd always feel your love. In the times when it is the strongest is when he holds that place a little tighter and whispers "I miss you too, " "Where tgere are no words . . . know the silences are carrying the thoughts and prayers of all who love you," God be with you all. ❤️ “ I’ve attempted so many messages to send to Liz. I just can’t seem to come up with the right words. Hayden was an amazing kid.. to know him was to love him. He stole my heart 17 years ago. I was so blessed to watch him grow up doing what he loved. My prayers are with the family, friends, and racing community. We definitely lost one of the best.
