“ The roll was called up yonder this week and after 96 years my ma-mal heard her name. She was a living link to history and epitomized what all human beings who strive to be selfless, God fearing and loving should be. While 96 seems to be a long time by human standards, she is now just beginning her much deserved journey in heaven with Walter, Jewel, Grace, her parents and all the many others who went before her. And while 96 may seem like a long time for us humans it was far too short a time to have you here for my preferences. Thank you for being the best ma-mal ever and I will do my best to honor your memory by attempting to live as strong, bravely and caring as you. May your beautiful spirit thrive in the peace of living a life well done. I love you ma-mal.
