“ My deepest sympathy to the family of Janet . We go way back to St. James Catholic School in Sewickley Quaker Valley Hight School class of 1960. I have fond memories of when we were young. Visiting at each other's homes & having sleep overs. My family was Italian & our mother's were the best cooks. She will be missed. Rest In Peace my dear friend.

“ Going back to the year 987, the Piscitelli Family is an illustrious Italian family. Some Piscitelli family members (Vincenzo Piscitelli 1791-1864), in Riardo, Caserta, Campania, Italy were profoundly religious, had a special devotion to the Catholic Church and to our Virgin Mary Immaculate Conception who was venerated in their house and at a special, family, altar (the first from the left as one enters the church) in the mother Church S. Maria a Silice. I am glad to read that Janet proudly continued her Italian family tradition and served as a lector at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Brentwood, CA. I was born in Riardo. I have personally met (and still know today) some of the Piscitelli Family in Riardo and vicinity. On behalf of the Caiazza Family, past and present, I offer sincere condolences to the family.

“ I am saddened to hear of the passing of a junior and high school friend. Janet lived across the street from me in Sewickley. We walked to school together, enjoyed many slumber parties, riding bikes and sitting on our porches talking. I remember sewing identical skirts and wearing them to school because we often thought of each other as sisters. I loved her family and thought her mom was the best cook in the world. Janet will be missed.

“ I used to go to this antique store in Brentwood, CA just to see her. I can't believe she's gone. What a wonderful spirit. She would always cheer me up and be so welcoming. I grew to call her friend. I'll never forget her.

“ Janet was a big part of my life and also of my daughter Ginny's life. She was always thoughtful, funny and the life of any family party! Her no-nonsense attitude, whether it involved speaking on politics or describing some small-town drama never failed to make me toss my head back and laugh out LOUD! I have a feeling, she's having a good time now, smiling, laughing and living LARGE. To all the family, I send care and thoughts, and truly feel I was fortunate to have Janet as a part of my family, through thick and thin:) Caring thoughts forever more,
