

Marjorie Maxine Crowder

October 1, 1931 - February 7, 2025

Marjorie Maxine Crowder, age 93, passed away peacefully on February 7, 2025, in the very same room where she was born on October 1, 1931, at her lifelong home in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Marjorie was a woman of deep kindness, generosity, and unwavering devotion to her family and community. She found joy in preparing meals for others, often sharing stories of the people she met while delivering food and the large batches of cornbread and cakes she made with love. She took great pride in her work at Brockway, where she was known for her incredible speed in packing bottles.

A talented seamstress and quilter, Marjorie found fulfillment in crafting beautiful pieces that reflected her warmth and creativity. She also cherished traveling, always making sure to include her grandchildren and great-grandchildren in her adventures. Above all, she created a home that was a haven for family, ensuring that gatherings were filled with love, laughter, and togetherness.

She is survived by her son, Kenneth Crowder; her daughter, Susan Martin, and her husband Richard; her grandsons, Bryan Crowder and Scott Crowder; her great-grandchildren, Kaley Gabel and her husband TJ, Kelsey Flinn, Chase Crowder, and Ashlyn Crowder; and her great-great-grandchildren, Jaxon, Axel, Braxton, Rosealee, Caroline, and Adalyne. She is also survived by her step-grandsons, Shane and Dustin Martin, along with nieces, nephews, other family members and friends.

Marjorie is preceded in death by her beloved husband, Walter Crowder; her grandson, Jeremy Flinn; her parents, Earl and Lola Russell; and all of her brothers and sisters.

A celebration of Marjorie's life will be held on Tuesday, February 11, at 10 a.m. at York Street Christian Church in Muskogee, officiated by Gene Thompson. She will be laid to rest at 2PM at Greenhill Cemetery with David Russell, Gene Jackson, Eddie Russell, Harvey Williams, Tim Russell, and Kenny Williams serving as pallbearers.

Marjorie's love and generosity will live on in the hearts of all who knew her. She leaves behind a legacy of family, faith, and kindness that will never be forgotten.

“ May Marjorie rest in heavenly peace with her Maker. Marjorie was a faithful woman of God living her life cooking and baking for her family and anyone who might be in need. She was a wonderful neighbor of mine for most of my life. She enjoyed all kinds of creatures like her donkey, chickens, turkeys, ducks, cows, cats and dogs. Gardening vegetables and flowers was another love of hers. Marjorie will be missed by her generational family and a multitude of friends.
Her sweet memories will live on in our hearts till we meet again.
