“ I met Lynn Tucker in 7th grade when I moved back to Morris where he was a teacher at the school. A few years later he became my father-in-law and was for more than 16 years. If I could sum Lynn up in a word it would be FAITHFUL. He was forever faithful to The Lord and to his family. He was uncompromising in his beliefs and he never ended a conversation about The Lord without saying "you better be ready and stay ready". He wanted everyone to "make Heaven". There was no gray area, right was right and wrong was wrong and he wasn't going to be persuaded otherwise..... He was excited to become a PaPaw and taught my children to love and respect God along with many other life lessons of which I will be forever grateful. He accepted my new husband and loved him and treated him as a son. Lynn made you want to do the right thing because you didn't want to let him down or disappoint him. Lynn was a truly good man and will be forever missed by those of us who loved him.
