“ Rob had a beautiful service, although sad, it was meaningful. He was a neighbor that I always intended to get around and take out on the pontoon fishing. This is what happens when you start putting things off.....I didn't get to do it. This has been a wake up call for me, to start visiting friends more and quit putting it off. Along the lines of putting things off, if any of Rob's family and friends have put off coming to Jesus and receiving Him as Lord and Savior, please don't put it off too long. That's were I met Rob was at church, but salvation is more than church, we all need to examine our selves to make sure we have the heart knowledge of Jesus and not just a head knowledge. Because of Rob knowing Jesus, I won't say goodbye, but I'll see ya later neighbor.

“ Those nights we played cards were some of my best memories. I remember the old house up on capital place. Tom and I would visit often. Stephanie was born and he was in love. Then joy and kids came into the picture. Heather with her curls. Fred was very active and Rebecca loved him dearly. I know they were cousins but they were also our friends. He loved his mom and sisters. He was so proud and looked up to sonny. U will b missed my friend. Rest in peace. We love u and ur family
