“ When I was growing up as a boy I was also growing out. By the time I was twelve I wore a larger waist size pant then I do now. My oldest brother Don was racing motorcycles in motocross races at this time; I wanted a dirt bike so bad I would have done almost anything to get one. My mother at this time was finding it increasingly difficult to find school clothes to fit my round body. So mom decided to make me a deal. She told me that if I would loose thirty pounds and keep it off for three months she would by me any motorcycle up to 100 cc. I stopped eating. It took me four months to shed thirty pounds. She bought me a Suzuki 90 that I had picked out. Looking back now, I got more then the motorcycle from this. The most important thing was I never let myself get that overweight again. I learned how to diet and exercise self control. She knew that would be the out come. She gave me a much better life because of it. Thanks Mom

“ One of the things that I was taught by mom was saying's of wisdom other wise known as barn yard philosophy. One of my favorites was when i did something dumb that she had told me not to do was " son, those that can't see have to feel". How true mom, how true.

“ My favorite memories of Grandma Ruby were every time I got to see her. She would cook us enough breakfast to feed a village and before you knew it lunch was being prepared. Then shortly after a large and delicious dinner. :) Grandma Ruby would make sure you gained atleast 10lbs each visit. I cherish every memory and moment I got to have with such a beautiful, wise, adn loving woman. She will be dearly missed but never forgotten.I love you Grandma Ruby,

“ One of many favorite memories I have of my grandma is when she would come down to Texas and surprise me as a kid. I would walk out of class when I was In elementary school and she would be sitting up at the front by the door waiting on me and I would run to her in excitement! We also played cards a lot, every time I came to visit. She was a mean crazy 8 player. She taught me that game when I was old enough to learn and our last game together was in July. We have a lot of great times and good talks over those card games and I will treasure them. I will miss you so incredibly much grandma. I am so thankful for you. You were a blessing to me!
