“ My childhood friend, Wilkey-Nut. I am heartbroken. But I smile as I remember your wit and perspectives and how you always made me laugh. I remember sitting in church with you trying to avoid our mothers' choirloft death-glares. Behind their backs we poked fun at them and sometimes exchanged indignant rants at their making us behave. Your dad was a joy to watch as he leaned out the car window and yelled "hey you all!" at passing strangers..just to make you cringe. You truly cared for others. What a special person you were!

“ Sharon was a close friend since elementary school. She was the first of our friends to get her license and she had a car! She'd take us all around in her Volkswagen Bug. I always remember Sharon did not like to wear coats. She'd go out in freezing weather with only a scarf and mittens, and of course a smile. Her smile was beautiful, as was her kind and generous heart. She loved to have fun and was so fun to with. She will be greatly missed by so many “ Sharon was the most generous person I know. One year I decided at the last minute. (the day before Thanksgiving) that I needed a Thanksgiving table cloth. Walmart was all out. I ran into Sharon there and we were discussed this. I gave up and said, “Oh well, I will plan ahead better next year”. When I went home about an hour and a half later, my husband said , “Your Thanksgiving table cloth and stuff are on the table.” Sharon had gone somewhere else, found and purchased table clothes and some cute little decor, and brought them to my house before I even got home from shopping. Of course, she would not let me reimburse her. I cannot tell you how often the girlfriends were the beneficiaries of Sharon’s great generosity! I love her dearly, and will miss her until I see her again.

Loved this generous Woman and will miss her so very much! We called her our chauffeur! She loaded us in the car (with everything else she packed in there) 🤦‍♀️ for so many trips! I will miss her funny sense of humor and her giving heart. In the last prayer we shared together she said it best. TO GOD I GIVE ALL THE GLORY! ❤️💔❤️. Praying for her family and remember that She loved you all so much!
